

due

Platform Service Agreement

1. Parties and agreement

- 1.1. This Platform Service Agreement (the "Agreement") is made effective as of 15 December, 2025 (the "Effective Date"), by and between

Due Ltd, incorporated in England and Wales, with company number 14369984 and registered address at 71-75 Shelton Street, Covent Garden, London, United Kingdom, WC2H 9JQ. along with its affiliated entities in the Due Group (together "Due", the "Company"), and Fasset Labuan Limited, incorporated in Malaysia with registration number LL17311, having its office at Unit level 14 (B) and 14 (C) Main Office Tower, Financial Park Labuan Complex, Jalan Merdeka, Lubuan, 87000 Malaysia (the "Client").

- 1.2. WHEREAS: Due offers a proprietary web and mobile application (the "Application") and a proprietary software Application Programming Interface ("API"), together (the "Due Platform"), which enables onboarded businesses and organisations such as the Client to allow their customers (the "End Users") to buy and sell stablecoins in exchange for fiat currency (the "Service(s)");
- 1.3. WHEREAS: The Client and Due (individually a "Party", and together the "Parties") seek to provide the services offered by the Due Platform to its End Users through the Client's use of the Application, the APIs or both (herein referred to as the "Platform Service Program" or the "Program");
- 1.4. WHEREAS: Due's general Terms of Service as set forth here: [\[https://www.opendue.com/legal/t-and-c-platform\]](https://www.opendue.com/legal/t-and-c-platform), and the definitions included therein, will apply to and form an integral part of this Agreement. In case of any discrepancies or inconsistencies between the provisions of this Agreement and the general Terms of Service, the provisions of the general Terms of Service control except where expressly provided otherwise; and
- 1.5. NOW THEREFORE: the Parties agree to the following terms.

2. Roles and responsibilities

- 2.1. Client responsibilities. The Client will:
- 2.1.1. Offer and provide the Program to its End Users using Client-branded materials approved by Due;
 - 2.1.2. Provide Due with accurate, up-to-date, and complete data, documents and information of the End Users to permit Due and its partners to evaluate the End User's eligibility to access the Services, and to conduct ongoing End User due diligence and transaction monitoring;
 - 2.1.3. Ensure that every End User appropriately onboards on Due, either directly by signing up on Due and successfully going through account verification, or indirectly by obtaining consent from the End Users to share required account verification data, information and

- documents with Due, and ensuring that each End Users accept the Due Terms of Service and Due Privacy Policy.
- 2.1.4. Verify the identity and legitimacy of each of its End Users as required by applicable law and as reasonably required by Due, and provide to Due such identity verification data, information and documents as reasonably required by Due.
- 2.1.5. If utilising the APIs, keep the API access credentials private and secure at all times by implementing security procedures that meet or exceed standards applicable to Financial Institutions;
- 2.1.6. Ensure that the End Users who have been approved to use the Services consent to the Due Terms of Service and Due Privacy Policy prior to being able to access the Services;
- 2.1.7. Inform Due of any suspicious or unusual activity by the End Users; and
- 2.1.8. Ensure delivery and acceptance of transaction receipts or any other required disclosures and documents by the End Users.
- 2.2. The Client will not use Due, the Platform, or the Services to enable any of the following activities by it, its Affiliates, or its End Users:
 - 2.2.1. unlawful or abusive activity, fraud, unlawful gambling, intellectual property infringement, investment or credit services, check cashing, bail bonds, collections agencies, physical cash collection or processing, counterfeit or unauthorised goods, illicit drugs or drug paraphernalia (including pseudo pharmaceuticals), substances designed to mimic illegal drugs, adult content and services, multi-level marketing, unfair, predatory or deceptive practices, unlicensed money services, and any other business that Due deems is outside the risk appetite of Due.
 - 2.2.2. Due has the sole discretion to update and enforce this list at any time.
- 2.3. Due responsibilities. Due will:
 - 2.3.1. Provide to the Client secure access to the Due Platform and its Services to enable to Client to execute the Program;
 - 2.3.2. Provide design and technical support for Clients integrating the APIs;
 - 2.3.3. Onboard End Users to the Program in accordance with Due's Compliance Program and Terms of Service;
 - 2.3.4. Carry out the Services to the Client as outlined in this Agreement and the Due Terms of Service to the best of its ability;
 - 2.3.5. Coordinate the processing and settlement of each qualifying End User transaction initiated within the Due Platform.
 - 2.3.6. Monitor the Client's and the End Users' compliance with applicable law and the Due Terms of Service.
- 2.4. On request of the Client, Due may provide the Services, or expand the Program, to affiliated entities in the same corporate group as the Client under the same terms as this Agreement. Affiliated entities are defined as entities:
 - (i) Controlling the Client, (ii) under the Control of the Client or (iii) under common Control with the Client. "Control" is deemed to exist if a party directly or indirectly owns 50% or more of the outstanding voting rights in another company or in any other way can exercise management control over the other party. The Client and any of its affiliated entities under this Agreement will be jointly and severally liable for all liabilities and obligations arising towards Due and any affiliated Persons of Due under this Agreement. Whether an affiliated entity may be included in this Agreement is at the sole discretion of Due.

3. Eligibility, onboarding, verification

- 3.1. Due will exclusively establish, manage, and may in the future modify, the criteria and requirements that must be met to be successfully onboarded onto the Due Platform.
- 3.2. Due will only provide its Services to Clients and End Users in jurisdictions where Due is authorised to provide its Services.
- 3.3. Due maintains exclusive control over the actions Due takes with respect to an End User's access and/or use of its Services, and over Due's relationship with each End User. Due may:
 - 3.3.1. Choose not to provide access to the Program to any prospective End User for any reason;
 - 3.3.2. Refuse to process, suspend or cancel any part of its Services to any End User; and
 - 3.3.3. Terminate or suspend an End User's access and/or use of our Services at any time. Due shall notify the Client in writing and without undue delay of any decision to refuse, suspend, or terminate an End User's access to the Services, unless prohibited by law or regulatory restrictions. Where feasible, Due shall provide the reason for such a decision unless prohibited by law or regulatory restrictions.
- 3.4. The Client may instruct Due to terminate or suspend an End User's access to the Program for any reason in the Client's sole discretion.
- 3.5. Each End User of the Client must onboard on Due, either:
 - 3.5.1. Directly by signing up on Due and successfully going through account verification; or
 - 3.5.2. Indirectly by obtaining consent from the End Users to share required account verification data, information and documents with Due, and ensuring that each End Users accept the Due Terms of Service and Due Privacy Policy.
- 3.6. The identity and legitimacy of each End User will be reviewed and verified by Due and its third-party partners as required by applicable law and regulatory obligations.

4. Commercials and financial obligations

- 4.1. The Client shall pay to Due the applicable fees for the use of the Services. The Parties shall maintain an Annex to this Agreement listing all applicable fees and pricing terms.

- 4.2. Due may update the fee structure at its sole discretion. Such changes will be communicated to the Client in writing at least 30 days prior to the change taking effect. Should the Client object to any material fee increase, and the Parties fail to reach mutual agreement, the Client shall have the right to terminate this Agreement without penalty before such change takes effect. This advance notice requirement does not apply to new services not currently provided to the Client, including but not limited to new payment corridors, product offerings or applications.
- 4.3. The Client will be liable for all direct losses incurred by Due or any of its partners that arise out of, or are related to:
 - 4.3.1. Loss or unauthorised use of the Client's Due API keys, the Client Account or End User Account, or any other security breaches caused or faced by Client or any of its affiliated parties in relation to this Agreement;
 - 4.3.2. The Client's or its End Users' gross negligence, fraudulent acts or intentional misconduct in relation to this Agreement; and
 - 4.3.3. The chargeback or reversal of any payments on behalf of the Client's End Users.
- 4.4. Upon request, the Client shall pay to Due an amount determined by Due to mitigate the risk of, or offset, credit losses by Due borne in relation to the Program (the "Risk Reserve"). The Risk Reserve amount will increase in line with the presence and frequency of any security breaches or any suspicious, unusual, fraudulent or illegal activity by the Client or its End Users. By default, the Risk Reserve will start at zero ($0.00), and an increase will only be considered after the first instance, if any, of a security breach or a suspicious, unusual, fraudulent or illegal activity by the Client or its End Users.

5. End User support and account handling

- 5.1. The Client is solely responsible for providing customer, onboarding and technical support to its End Users regarding any matters related to the Services and the Program.
- 5.2. The Client is solely responsible for handling End User complaints with the End Users regarding any matters related to the Services and the Program.
- 5.3. Due may communicate with the Client's End Users only upon request by the Client. Due may deny such requests at its sole discretion.
- 5.4. In connection with the Program, Due and its team may assist the Client in creating FAQs, customer inquiry scripts, internal knowledge guides, amongst other support-related materials and matters as necessary. Due shall cooperate in good faith to provide technical support for any issues faced by the Client's and/or the End Users' use of and access to the Program.
- 5.5. Each Party will report to the other Party any End User complaints received by the impacted Party in a timely manner.
- 5.6. If an End User's access to the Program is to be terminated for any reason, the Client will inform Due without delay. In such cases, any outstanding transactions will be processed or refunded, and upon settlement, the End User's access to the Program will be terminated.

6. Supported currencies, countries and payment rails

- 6.1. Due will exclusively control the list of payment countries, fiat currencies, stablecoins and payment rails that are made available through the Program.
- 6.2. The full list mentioned in Section 6.1 above will be shared with the Client during the initial engagement of the relationship between Due and the Client; upon request by the Client; and any time the list is updated by Due.

7. Compliance

- 7.1. Each Party, and its affiliates or any related party, will comply with all applicable laws and regulations in connection with each Party's obligations under this Agreement. Each Party shall:
 - 7.1.1. Ensure that sufficient controls and procedures are in place to obtain any necessary approvals for the Program from third-party service providers, regulatory authorities, or any other entities who have legal or contractual authority over the respective Party as applicable; and
 - 7.1.2. Assist the other Party with fulfillment of such obligations under this Agreement.
- 7.2. At all times during the Term of this Agreement, each Party will maintain a detailed and robust AML/CFT Compliance Program as required by applicable law and as required by regulations relevant to each Party.
 - 7.2.1. The Client shall provide Due with a copy of its AML/CFT Compliance Program, or any other Policies and Procedures, upon request.
- 7.3. Each Party shall, on an ongoing basis, monitor all End Users and any other parties involved in the Program for matches with any sanctions lists, blacklists, adverse media, criminal records, lists of Politically Exposed Persons, and any other similar lists. For avoidance of doubt, Due explicitly prohibits the use of Due, its Services, and this Program, by any Entities or Persons on any Sanctions list. Due also prohibits the same for PEPs and PEP affiliates.
- 7.4. Each Party shall develop, operate, administer and maintain accurate and individually identifiable files and records relating to the Program, each in accordance with its record management policy and applicable law. Each Party will grant the other Party access to its files and records related to the Program upon request from a regulatory body or any other party with legal or contractual authority over Due or the Client.

8. Term and termination

- 8.1. The effective term ("Effective Term") of this Agreement is agreed as one year starting on the Effective Date, and will automatically extend for consecutive one-year renewal terms unless either Party provides written notice to the other Party 90 days prior to the end of the then-prevailing Term.
- 8.2. Subject to applicable law, each Party may terminate this Agreement:

- 8.2.1. In 30 days if the other Party breaches a material term of this Agreement and such breach remains uncured for 30 days after the notice of intent to terminate;
- 8.2.2. Immediately if any material breach of the Agreement's terms is reasonably unlikely to be cured;
- 8.2.3. Immediately if the other Party experiences an Insolvency Event (where "Insolvency Event" means a set of circumstances pursuant to which a Party (i) is unable to perform under this Agreement and becomes or is declared insolvent, is unable to pay its debts as they fall due or admits inability to pay its debts, declares bankruptcy, or is the subject of any liquidation or insolvency proceedings);
- 8.2.4. Immediately if a Party fails to maintain its regulatory licenses or authorisations, if applicable; or
- 8.2.5. As set forth below in Section 16.14 (Force Majeure).
- 8.3. Due may also terminate this Agreement:
 - 8.3.1. Immediately if Due has reasonable cause to believe that this Program is putting Due at material risk of not being able to fulfill its regulatory obligations; or
 - 8.3.2. For convenience upon 60 days' notice to the Client.
- 8.4. Notwithstanding the expiration or termination of this Agreement, for no less than three months (or shorter as decided by Due) following the expiration or termination:
 - 8.4.1. The Client shall continue to make the Services available to its End Users to permit Due to complete any outstanding transactions; and
 - 8.4.2. Each Party shall cooperate to address any outstanding End User complaints.
 - 8.4.3. No new transactions or new End User onboardings will be accepted during this period.
- 8.5. The termination of this Agreement will not relieve either Party of its liabilities for the payment or performance of any obligation accrued prior to the termination date, including any indemnification obligations.

9. Data

- 9.1. Due will completely own, administer, and control all Due Data. Neither the Client, its employees, affiliates, third-parties nor any other respective parties will have proprietary rights to Due Data.
- 9.2. Due only authorises the possession, use, disclosure, and retention of Due Data to the Client exclusively:
 - 9.2.1. To enable the Client to fulfill its obligations under this Agreement;
 - 9.2.2. For fraud and crime prevention purposes; and
 - 9.2.3. To comply with AML/CFT regulatory obligations and applicable law.
- 9.3. Due Data is Due's Confidential Information, as defined below in Section 10.1.
- 9.4. The Client will completely own, administer, and control all Client Data. Neither Due, its employees, affiliates, third-parties nor any other respective parties will have proprietary rights to Client Data.

- 9.5. The Client only authorises the possession, use, disclosure, and retention of Client Data to the Client exclusively:
 - 9.5.1. To enable Due to fulfill its obligations under this Agreement;
 - 9.5.2. For fraud and crime prevention purposes; and
 - 9.5.3. To comply with AML/CFT regulatory obligations and applicable law.
- 9.6. Client Data is the Client's Confidential Information.
- 9.7. Without limiting the Client's rights regarding End User Data, such data provided to Due by the Client (or by the End User directly) will be deemed Due Data upon the creation of the End User's Due Account. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Due shall not use any End User Data obtained through the Client to (i) market or promote any competing services to the End User directly, or (ii) contact the End User directly without the Client's prior written consent, except where required by applicable law or regulations.
- 9.8. During the Term of this Agreement and for a period of twelve (12) months following its termination or expiration, Due may not use the Client's Confidential Information to proactively solicit End Users to use the Due Platform directly without the involvement of the Client, except as otherwise permitted herein or required by law.

10. Confidentiality

- 10.1. "Confidential Information" means (i) all information (in whatever form or media and however disclosed or provided) disclosed by the Disclosing Party including, without limitation, information and data relating to processes, methodologies, techniques, intellectual property, business practices, know-how, data, tools, templates, technology, technical data and/or solution, documentation, development, procedures, software, programs, business plans, financial data, marketing plans and strategies, customers, existing and potential customers' data, suppliers, suppliers' lists, sales opportunities, proposal and bid documentation and strategies, and other non-public information which is confidential or proprietary to the Disclosing Party and any report, analysis or summary derived from Confidential Information. (ii) the fact that discussions or negotiations between the Parties are taking place concerning the Agreement, and the content and nature of this Agreement. (iii) all information provided by the Disclosing Party which is marked with an appropriate stamp or legend designating such material as "Confidential". (iv) all information provided orally by the Disclosing Party which is identified as confidential at the time it is transmitted and is subsequently confirmed as such in writing by the Disclosing Party within fifteen (15) days after such verbal transmittal.
- 10.2. The Party receiving Confidential Information (the "Receiving Party") from the other Party (the "Disclosing Party") must hold the Confidential Information in strict confidence and will protect such Confidential Information from unauthorised or accidental loss, destruction, alteration, disclosure or access.
- 10.3. The Receiving Party shall not disclose to any other party, use or exploit the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information in any form or way whatsoever, except to fulfill their obligations under this Agreement.

- 10.4. Each Party shall not copy, reduce to writing or otherwise record the other Party's Confidential Information except as strictly, and to the extent, necessary for the Agreement (and any such copies or writings and records, to the extent they contain Confidential Information, shall be the property of the Disclosing Party).
- 10.5. The Receiving Party must not disclose or otherwise give access to the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information to any employee, affiliate, service provider, partner or agent that does not have a legitimate "need to know" such information.
- 10.6. Each Party may disclose the other Party's Confidential Information if required to do so by a Regulatory Authority. In such cases, the Receiving Party shall (i) give reasonable notice to the Disclosing Party prior to such occurrence to the extent permissible by applicable law, and (ii) limit disclosure of such information as if such information was the Receiving Party's own Confidential Information.
- 10.7. At any time or upon the termination of this Agreement, the Receiving Party will, at the Disclosing Party's discretion, (i) return to the Disclosing Party all Confidential Information belonging to the Disclosing Party or (ii) promptly and securely destroy the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information with a written certification signed by an authorised officer that the Confidential Information was destroyed.
- 10.8. The Receiving Party shall be authorised (subject to and in accordance with the obligations of confidentiality under this Agreement) to keep a copy of any Confidential Information to (i) the extent reasonable to demonstrate that it has fulfilled its obligations hereunder, and/or (ii) the extent it is required to keep a copy by law or applicable government or regulatory authority.
- 10.9. If the Disclosing Party instructs the Receiving Party to return or destroy a Confidential Information during the Effective Term, the Receiving Party will not be liable for nonperformance of an obligation under this Agreement if the Receiving Party is not able to perform the obligation without access to, or authorisation to use, the Confidential Information.

11. Information security

- 11.1. Each Party will comply with all privacy and data protection laws applicable to its processing of Personal Data in connection with the performance of its obligations under this Agreement.
- 11.2. Each Party will employ operational, physical and technical safeguards designed to protect Confidential Information and Personal Data from access, disclosure, use or acquisition by any unauthorised party. Such safeguards will be no less than those that the Party uses to secure its own Confidential Information and Personal Data.
- 11.3. "Personal Data" is defined as:
 - 11.3.1. Any information in any form, format or media that (i) is relating to an identified or identifiable individual, (ii) identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with or could reasonably be linked with a particular individual or household;

- 11.3.2. "Nonpublic Personal Data" as defined under the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (15 U.S.C. §6801 et seq.) and under the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679; and
 - 11.3.3. Any other non-public personal information protected under any applicable laws.
- 11.4. The Client shall provide Due with a copy of its InfoSec Policy, Cybersecurity Policy or similar upon request.
- 11.5. The Parties agree that any security breach might cause immediate and irreparable harm to the other Party for which money damages might not constitute an adequate remedy. In such an event, the Parties agree injunctive relief may be warranted in addition to any other remedies.
- 11.6. The impacted Party will promptly (but in no event more than 48 hours after discovery of a security breach) advise the other Party by telephone and/or in writing of any security breach and will take all steps at its own expense to limit, stop or otherwise remedy the security breach.

12. Intellectual property

- 12.1. Due grants the Client a non-exclusive, revocable, royalty-free, non-sublicenseable, and nontransferable license to use the Due IP solely in connection with the Program and solely to the extent such use is necessary for Client to perform its obligations under this Agreement. For avoidance of doubt, the title to, and ownership of, Due's IP will remain solely with Due.
- 12.2. The Client grants Due a non-exclusive, revocable, royalty-free, non-sublicenseable, and non-transferable license to display the Client's name, logo or mark in connection with Due's provision of the Services to the End Users.
- 12.3. The licences granted in this Agreement shall be terminated immediately upon termination of this Agreement or unless terminated earlier by either Party.
- 12.4. Neither Party is granting or assigning to the other Party any right or title to the other Party's Intellectual Property. Each Party reserves all rights in its Intellectual Property, and to the Intellectual Property rights granted to it by any third party.

13. Representations, warranties and covenants

- 13.1. Each Party represents and warrants as of the Effective Date, that:
 - 13.1.1. It is a duly organised entity, actively existing and in good standing under the laws of the jurisdiction in which it was formed or incorporated, and has the full authority and power to (i) continue its business as conducted and (ii) own and operate its assets;
 - 13.1.2. It holds the required authority and power to enter into, adopt and perform all its obligations under this Agreement, and the execution, adoption and delivery of this Agreement has been fully authorised by all required corporate actions. Upon execution, this Agreement will constitute a legal and binding obligation, enforceable against each Party in accordance with the Agreement terms;

- 13.1.3. The execution of this Agreement and the performance by each Party to this Agreement are not in violation of any applicable laws, either Party's by-laws or any contract, order, memorandum of understanding or other instrument by which they are bound;
- 13.1.4. No language contained in this Agreement, when taken as a whole, contains any untrue or false statements, or omits a material fact necessary to make the statement not misleading;
- 13.1.5. It, and any of its affiliates, hold all licenses and authorisations required to conduct their business in each jurisdiction in which they operate; where the failure to hold such authorisations would materially limit the Party's business as currently conducted; and
- 13.1.6. The provision of the Program and its Services does not violate any laws and regulations applicable to either Party.

14. Indemnification

- 14.1. Due will indemnify the Client and any of its affiliates from and against any losses incurred in any third-party claim against the Client or any of its affiliates that were caused by, resulted from or were related to:
 - 14.1.1. Due's breach of its obligations under this Agreement;
 - 14.1.2. An actual or alleged infringement, violation or misappropriation of a third party's Intellectual Property or proprietary rights by Due;
 - 14.1.3. Due's gross negligence, fraud or intentional misconduct;
 - 14.1.4. A security breach caused by Due; or
 - 14.1.5. Due's violation of applicable law.
- 14.2. The Client will indemnify Due and any of its affiliates from and against any losses incurred in any third-party claim against Due or any of its affiliates that were caused by, resulted from or were related to:
 - 14.2.1. The Client's breach of its obligations under this Agreement;
 - 14.2.2. An actual or alleged infringement, violation or misappropriation of a third party's Intellectual Property or proprietary rights by the Client or its affiliates;
 - 14.2.3. The Client's gross negligence, fraud or intentional misconduct;
 - 14.2.4. A security breach caused by the Client or its affiliates; or
 - 14.2.5. The Client's violation of applicable law.
- 14.3. If a Party receives notice of a third-party claim for which it is owed an indemnification obligation, the indemnified Party will notify the other Party in writing no later than 15 days after receipt of such claim, provided that failure to notify timely shall not relieve the indemnifying Party of its obligation except to the extent it is materially prejudiced by such delay.
- 14.4. The Parties will cooperate in good faith to coordinate the defense of any third-party claim that may give rise to indemnification obligations of either or both Parties.
- 14.5. If a third-party claim arises due to the joint actions or omissions of both Parties, liability shall be allocated between them in proportion to their respective fault. "Proportion" shall be based on the respective acts or omissions by the Parties that contributed to the third-party claim, and will be discussed and decided in good faith by mutual agreement between the Parties.

- 14.6. Excluding cases specified in Sections 14.1 and 14.2 above, either Party's total liability to the other Party shall be limited to the total amount of fees paid or payable by the Client under this Agreement during the twelve (12) months preceding the third-party claim.

15. Limitation of liability

- 15.1. Neither Party will be liable to the other Party for any indirect, incidental, consequential or exemplary losses, lost profits or lost revenues resulting from, caused by or related to each Party's performance of its obligations under this Agreement.
- 15.2. The limitations on each Party's liability set forth in Section 15.1 will not apply to:
 - 15.2.1. A Party's liability for losses set forth in Section 4.3 or any payment obligation due to the other Party or an End User arising out of this Agreement; and
 - 15.2.2. A Party's obligations under Section 14.
- 15.3. Nothing in this Section 15 excludes or limits either Party's liability where such limitation is prohibited by applicable law.
- 15.4. Except as otherwise expressly stated in this Agreement, Due specifically disclaims any representation or warranty that the Due Services, or the services of any of its third parties provided in connection with this Agreement, will be error-free or uninterrupted, or that such services will be compatible with, or operate in, any computer operating system, network or system configuration, or any other environment.

16. Additional legal terms

- 16.1. Notices. The Parties will deliver all communications via email to the email addresses provided by the other Party for this purpose. The Parties may use other forms of communication if agreed by both Parties in writing.
- 16.2. Independent contract. This Agreement does not set up or create an employer/employee relationship, joint venture, agency or trust between the Parties.
- 16.3. Assignment. This Agreement and the rights, privileges, duties and obligations of the Parties in this Agreement may not be assigned or delegated by either Party without the prior written consent of the other Party. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, assignment will not relieve the assigning Party of its duties or obligations under this Agreement.
- 16.4. Third-party beneficiaries. This Agreement does not benefit or create any right or cause of action in or on behalf of any Person other than the Client and Due. End Users, third-party partners or any other associated parties have no rights or obligations under this Agreement.
- 16.5. Non-compete. Due shall not proactively or directly contact or solicit any End User regarding its business, products or services that are in competition with the Client. If any End User contacts Due, Due shall notify the Client within a reasonable timeframe, but no longer than 10 days after contact is made. In such cases, Due shall restrict its communications with the End User solely to matters reasonably permitted under the terms of the Agreement. This provision shall be effective for the entirety of the Effective Term of this Agreement.

- 16.6. Waivers. Neither Party may amend, modify, or waive any instrument or provisions in this Agreement unless executed in writing signed by both Parties. A Party's waiver of any breach of this Agreement by the other Party will not be construed as the waiver of the same or any other similar breach on a subsequent occasion.
- 16.7. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, all of which will constitute one document taken together. Parties may execute counterparts of this Agreement by electronic means.
- 16.8. Publicity. Neither Party shall refer to the other Party in any public statements, announcements, or other publicity related to this Agreement, without the prior written consent of the other Party.
- 16.9. Expenses. Except as otherwise specified in this Agreement, each Party will be responsible for payment of any expenses it incurs in performance of its obligations under this Agreement.
- 16.10. Taxes. All amounts stated in this Agreement are exclusive of all applicable taxes, including goods and services taxes, value added taxes, consumptions taxes and any other applicable taxes on fees or services that the Client or the End User is legally obligated to charge or be charged. Each Party is responsible for payment of taxes (including any interest and penalties) on its own income, revenue or any other obligations owed or incurred under applicable law.
- 16.11. Right to amend: Due may at any time (i) re-engineer its APIs or any of its other Services, (ii) reconfigure its infrastructure, (iii) modify or replace its system architectures or (iv) update its third-party providers. Such changes shall not adversely impact the performance of the Program and shall not incur any additional cost to the Client. Due may from time to time update, amend, replace, or remove parts of its general Terms of Service or any policy or term incorporated by reference. If any such changes may materially and/or adversely affect the rights or obligations of the Client under this Agreement, Due will provide the Client with no less than thirty (30) days' prior written notice describing the nature and impact of the change. In such cases, the Client is granted the right to object to the change within this notice period; if the Client objects in writing within the notice period and the Parties cannot mutually agree on a resolution within this period, the Client shall have the right to terminate this Agreement without penalty, effective upon written notice. Until the expiry of the 30-day notice period, the existing Terms shall remain in effect.
- 16.12. Complaints and litigation. Each Party will promptly provide the other Party with copies of any formal proceedings, investigations, subpoenas, or lawsuits it receives from an End User, a regulatory authority or any other third party relating to the Program, unless disclosure is prohibited by applicable law.
- 16.13. Dispute resolution. The Parties will resolve any Disputes in good faith and in a timely manner by mutual consultation among the designated representatives of each Party. If a Dispute remains unresolved for more than 60 days, either Party may escalate the Dispute for resolution by senior executives from each Party.

- 16.13.1. Except for any Dispute principally related to either Party's rights and obligations specified within this Agreement, each Dispute not resolved by the Parties by mutual consultation will be determined by arbitration in London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) before a single arbitrator.
 - 16.13.2. The existence of a Dispute and the observance by the Parties of the Dispute resolution procedures will not: (i) excuse any Party from continuing to perform its obligations under this Agreement or (ii) suspend any obligation to pay any amount otherwise due and payable under this Agreement unless that obligation or the amount is itself the Dispute subject.
 - 16.13.3. If any Dispute leads to an arbitration or other legal proceeding to resolve such Dispute, the prevailing Party will be entitled to receive its attorneys' fees, expert witness fees and out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with such proceeding, in addition to any other relief it may be awarded, from the other Party. Except as required by applicable law, neither a Party nor the arbitrator may disclose the existence, content or results of any arbitration without the prior written consent of both Parties.
- 16.14. Force Majeure. Neither Party will be liable for delay or failure to perform, in whole or in part, any of its duties under this Agreement due to factors beyond its reasonable control, including lack or failure of raw materials, strike, lockout or other labor disturbance, sabotage, terrorism, acts of war or other armed conflict, earthquake, storm, fire, electrical supply or telecommunications failure (each a "Force Majeure Event").
 - 16.14.1. This will not (i) serve to limit a Party's obligations to pay any amounts owed to the other Party under this Agreement or (ii) limit the right of any Party to this Agreement to make any claim against third parties for any damages suffered due to any such event.
 - 16.14.2. If a Force Majeure Event persists for more than 30 days (or 10 days in the case of a Force Majeure Event impacting a Party's payment obligations) from the date on which a Party has notified the other Party of such Force Majeure Event, the Party not suffering such Force Majeure Event will have the right to terminate this Agreement at any time.
- 16.15. Remedies cumulative. The Parties do not intend their respective rights to this Agreement to be exclusive of each other or of any other rights and remedies under this Agreement. Each and every right to this Agreement of both Parties is cumulative and concurrent, and in addition to all other rights of the Parties.
- 16.16. Survival. The sections of this agreement that expressly state they survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement (or which must survive to give effect to their intent and meaning) will survive such termination or expiration.

- 16.17. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Agreement will not be affected by such invalidity or unenforceability, and the Parties expressly authorise any court of competent jurisdiction to modify any such provision so that such provision will be enforced by such court to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law.
- 16.18. Governing law. Unless prohibited by a regulatory authority, any dispute, controversy or claim resulting from a Party's rights and obligations under this Agreement, whether in contract, tort, equity or otherwise, and including any question regarding its existence, validity, construction or termination, will be governed by, construed, interpreted, and enforced in accordance with the laws of The United Kingdom; and will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of The United Kingdom.
- 16.19. Entire agreement. This Agreement embodies the entire understanding of the Parties and supersedes and extinguishes in their entirety all prior communication and correspondence. There are no further or other agreements or understandings, written or oral, in effect between the Parties relating to the subject matter of this Agreement. Each Party agrees that it will have no remedies in respect of any statement, representation, assurance or warranty (whether made innocently or negligently) that is not set out in this Agreement. Each Party agrees that it will have no claim for innocent or negligent misrepresentation or negligent misstatement based on any statement in this Agreement.

[Signature page follows]

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, authorised representatives of each Party have executed this Agreement, as of the Effective Date set out below.

SIGNED by the duly authorised signatory of the COMPANY:

Signature:  Signed by:
4AE5F4BE724E43A...

Name: Robert Sargsian

Title: Co-Founder & CEO

Date: 15 December 2025

SIGNED by the duly authorised signatory of the CLIENT:

Signature:  Signed by:
8D52C1006F1B484...

Name: Daniel Ahmed

Title: Co-Founder & COO

Date: 15 December 2025

ANNEX: FEE SCHEDULE

1. Monthly Fees

Fee Type	Fee	Payment Cycle
Virtual Account Fee	1 USD / active account*	Invoiced monthly
Platform fee	Free	N/A
Minimum Commitment (months 1-3)	Free	Invoiced monthly
Minimum Commitment (month 4 onwards)	3,000 USD / month	Invoiced monthly

* Active account = any virtual account used for at least one pay-in in a given month.

 Minimum Commitment applies if the sum of Virtual Account Fees and Payment Fees (specified below) in a given month is less than the Minimum Commitment. The Minimum Commitment is exclusive of the Platform Fee.

2. Payment Fees

Payment Fees are calculated based on transaction volume.

 Due x Fasset, Transactional Pricing 20251111.pdf